Hongkong, January 18, 1868. KONIGLICH PREUSSISCHES CONSULAT.

HONGKONG DEN 9TEN MARZ, 1858. I IE nachstehende Bekanntmachung des Königlichen Geschäftsträgers zu Japan wird hierdurch zur Kunde der preussischen Unterthanen und Schutzgenossen

J. MENKE.

Stellvertreter des Consuls. BEKANNTMACHUNG. Da nach officiellen Nachrichten in Japan der Krieg zwischen Seiner Majestät dem Mikado und dem Taikuhn ausgebrochen ist, und die Beobachtung strenger Neutralitat dadurch nothwendig wird, so macht der Unterzeichnete Geschäftsträger Seiner Majestät des Königs von Preussen in Japan die preussischen Unterthanen und Schutzgenossen darauf aufmerksam, dass eine Betheiligung an dem Kriege, selbst in tf. der Eigenschaft als Nicht-Combattant, die Zuführung von Kriegs und Transportschiffen, die Zuführung und Beförderung von Militarpersonen, Depeschen und zur Kriegscontrebande gehörigen Gegenständen in MAKERS, WINE AND SPIRIT MERCHANTS, preussischen Kauffahrteischiffen für irgend einen der beiden Theile nach den Grundsätzen des Volkerrechts eine Verletzung der Nontralität in sich schliessen und als feindliche geahudet werden können. Die im Militärdienste befindlichen Personen können daher nach Kriegegebrauch behandelt werden, während die Schiffe und sonstigen Transportmittel der Wegnahmo und Confiscation unterliegen, wolche auch auf die Uebrige, etwa vorhandene, Neutralen gehörige Ladung ausgedehnt werden Jede Verletzung der Neutralität durch preussische Unterthauen und Schiffe würde dieselben ausserdem der Gefahr aussetzen. ihrer Ansprüche auf den Schutz der Königlichen Regierung sowie auf die in dem preussisch-japanischen Vertrage garantirten Rechte und Privilegien verlustig zu gehen, Hiogo, Kobé, den 18ten Februar, 1868. Der Königliche Geschäftsträger.

PRIVATE information by home letters leads us to believe that some very decided changes in the personnel of the Colonial Government are under discussion, if no already decided upon, and it is thought that Mr Austin will be empowered to assume upon his arrival powers of more important nature than those pertaining to the office of Colonial Secre-

THE MILITARY CONTRIBUTION. tion to the piracy. An article in the London and China Express of the 26th Feb., deals with the Military Contribution question from much the same point of view as that The performance at the Great World Circus taken by ourselves, although we differ from some of its deductions. Alluding to the undoubted fact that the importance of Hongkong-singularly unproductive educated horse "Othello," The programme of articles of trade—arises solely from its for the evening is an excellent one, and of the Steam-boat Company, that by their being the depot and thus the centre of should command a crowded house, espe- having subsidised Mr Acheong's steamers the vast commerce between China and cially as the "season" is drawing to a they have not gained their object of mono the outer world, it looks upon the troops close, the company leaving for Shanghai polising the carrying trade on the Pearl stationed in the colony as being for Bri. on Friday. protection in China generally. "But," says our contemporary, "it is going a little too far to assert that the presence of the garrison is an unmixed evil. The memorialists would have done better had they asked that the contribution should be suspended until the Mint question be solved and the colonial re sources placed on a better footing; or else that it be forthwith reduced to a much smaller sum. We have already predicted the probable answer which will be received by the memorialists. The Straits papers indeed with much justice, ridicule the memorial in toto and point out that it most injudiciously draws attention to the smallness it did not ignite although a portion of i of the sum exacted from Hongkong as compared with the subsidies paid by the Straits settlements and other colonies The Benefactress, American barque, which similarly situated, and we are inclined to share in the fear thus expressed. The point upon which we differ from our contemporary, as we did with the memorial, is embodied in the following paragraph which he was taken left the in its article :--

"Because Hongkong is chosen for this, as the only spot in China waters that is actually British property, that is no reason why Hongkong alone should be called upon maintain troops that are liable at any time to be called away to protect British interests at Canton, or any other place at which they may be threatened."

Now if the only bond between the at the mercy of the waves. One settlements at Canton and Hongkong one his companions died of starvation and were that of nationality and a mutual the sole survivor of the 21 men was picked object in carrying on trade, this sort of up by the Benefactress, after makingup his argument would be perfectly valid. Now we are pretty sure that all charges imposed in this colony upon mercantile transactions direct to other ports, fall either in part or in whole upon those concerned at those ports. which in this manner contribute their quota to our local revenue. We will even go so far as to say that fully one third of the military contribution is now defrayed from the pockets of persons not resident in Hongkong. The assertion therefore that this colony is paying the entire contribution must be received as true to the eye, but by no means true to fact. It does primarily come out of the pockets of residents undoubtedly, but, as we say, one third at least of the sum is recovered by subsequent charges to their correspondents.

We are thus plain in pointing out the actual state of the case in order to shew the nature of the argument with which we are pretty confident the auti-contribution memorial will be met. We pass over the necessity which owing to the Abyssinian war and other circumstances. exists for decreasing as far as possible Imperial expenditure. Upon this ground alone, a delay to consider the memorial until the expiration of the five years period might confidently be expected. But we are afraid that even when the originally specified time of imposition shall have elapsed, the argument we have above glanced at will be urged against who had six months for larceny from the perany reduction of the "contribution" by

SUPREME COURT, IN ADMIRALTY.

In re The "Achilles" v. " Eastward Ho," her Freight and Cargo.

The Chief Justice gave judgment in thi case on opening the Court this morning. We shall publish the judgment at length pereafter; but in the meantime we may state that his Lordship ruled that the Achilles had accomplished a salvage service, but that, owing to the services of the steamer having been accepted under promise from the captain that the charge would "not be too much," he fixed the remuneration at $800, with $100 allowance for costs As to the general costs of the action, however, each party would pay his own costs.

The Jurors were-Messrs H. N. Mody A. L. Turner, H. Foster, C. Storey, I Phillips, J. Jardine, and F. A. d'Aquino. This was a case which has previously been before the Small Cause Court, in which arose the question of the agency or no agency of M. Chatain to the firm of Messrs Heard & Co. Plaintiff is a stone-dealer, had supplied the French architect with blocks granite for the construction of defendant louse, and now sued the defeudants for $1574.50, the amount of unpaid balance for said stone supplied, left by Chatain when I absconded. The defence was that Chatain had been simply paid to build defendant house, and had absconded.

Mr Pollard, Q.c., instructed by Mr Cald well, appeared for the defendants; and Mi Barnard, instructed by Mr Sharp, appeared on behalf of plaintiff. Mr Barnard opened the case, stating the facts briefly noted above. The man Awa who acted as interpreter to Messrs Heard was in Cochin China, and could not be pro duced; but in spite of this he boned that ne would be able to prove that M. Chatain had acted as agent for defendants, or a least that, by subsequent confirmation of Chatain's contract, they had established an agency. He thought that the defendants, who were one of the first American house in China, would be doing what was un worthy of them and what was wrong in law y resisting the reasonable claim of his poor lient. Mr Barnard then called The plaintiff, who stated that he supplied Chatain with blocks of granite from the nonth of June to the middle of July, gene rally receiving payment from Chatain, but ncs $200 from Mr Heard. He then del vered the stone to the Frenchman. In his books he had entered Chatain's name. M Chatain ran away in November. In cross examination by Mr Pollard, plaintiff said that all the atones were delivered at the new buildings, and that he got his money from Chatain at the same place. Through Awa, he bargained with Chatain for the lot of stone. When Chatain ran away, the place was shut up, and another contractor was put on, who put on different workmen,-Reexamined: The papers produced in French were got from Chatain. All the communieations with Chatain were through an interpreter, and the interpreter cannot now Mr Barnard was proceeding with examination when our Reporter left.

COOLIES AND COTTON AT THE PELLEWS. Chun Asue v. A. Tetens, $150, for wage as coolies according to agreement -Mr Pollard, Q. o. instructed by Mr Caldwell; appeared on behalf of defendant; M

This case arose from an alleged breach agreement. From Mr Pollard's statement of facts, it appeared that the latter, together with eighteen other coolies, were engagedby defendant (master of the Hamburg brig Vesta) to proceed to the Pellew Islands, certain term in lien of certain wazes. was agreed that the evidence taken in the pass should be used in all the other actions The Vesta left Hongkong in April 186 The new Canton teas of the season have for the Pellews and Caroline Islands, and produced by Mr Pollard, which bound for four years on the terms of $10 advance. new clothes, food and profit on the cotton produce, when sold at rate of $4 for 200 Ibs. Upon this island-the same on which the Perseus' officers and crew some time ago avenged the death of Captain Cheyne -the coolies commenced to work under the superintendence of the second mate. They were well fed, but got discontented; and, in addition to fighting with the natives about women and on account of petty larcenies, they had a faction fight, in which one was wounded. They then clamoured to get back to Hongkong; and in spite of the fact that there were 6000 strong cotton trees. RECENTLY a villager was drowned in the and altogether 16,000 trees, the coolies left son; and his Worship thereupon sentenced Tagus. The Mayor ordered a search for in the brig on their return voyage to Hongaign an agreement admitting a breach of the former contract.

Mr Whyte said that he had never seen the original contract, but he set up a parol contract which the coolies had entered into. and which they believed they signed when the case was adjourned till further notice.

appending their names to the original contract produced; in a Court of equity he believed he had a right to do so. If he was bound by the rules of pleading, he looked upon it as a great hardship that the coolies could not obtain redress against so gross an imposition. It was not likely that they would have gone down to the Pellew islands for four years on promise of a vague sum to be fixed upon for the cotton.-Mr. Pollard said that a streetcoolie for $10 advance and food would go anywhere -Mr Whyte said that the coolies believed they were going to the Pellews for one year at $10 a month.

Chin Asing, a coolie, stated that he went on board the Vesta; he signed the contract produced, because he wished to go to the Pellew

(or Cotton) Islands. It was signed before the German Consul. The terms were that they would get $10 a-month and food, for a year, with an advance of $10, and the rest to be paid after they returned to Hongkong. After this explanation, he signed the papers; and he sailed next day. They picked oakum and did other kinds of work on deck during the voyage, and after they arrived at the Islands (on 3rd of June), they built huts to live in-nineteen landed They remained on the island for 9 months, and to feed them the Captain sent ashore ten bags of Rice (sample produced); they also got yams to eat, and salt meat, but no fresh meat, as there was no cattle on the island. (A sample of the coco or tara, a species of yam, was here produced, which Mr Pollard remarked was very good when The Captain, chief mate and second mate asked them to come back to Hongkoug, after they had planted a good deal of cotton; and he was very glad to do so; the food was not proper, the yam or coco giving them a pain in the belly. On the passage home, the ship leaked and they had to work hard. On being asked to sign a paper, after the anchor was up, he did so: him. He had not got more than $10 - By Mr Pollard: The cotton belonged to the Captain, and they were not to get more than monthly wages; the cotton was to be made up in mat-bags of not more than 50 lbs. Akow, agent, said that he had engaged to get nineteen men for the Captain; but he did not tell him anything about agreement, Koon Poo, head man, spoke English to the Captain and Consul. They had rice and fish given to them, and a dead bullock : but never caught any fresh fish. They were attacked by the natives, and then ran away. There were fruit and fowls there; but they could not get them. Once they had a fight amongst themselves, and one man who was wounded with a knife had his wounds dressed. They asked if they could be taken away, as they wanted to get away; but they did not say they would not stop. They made no complaints to the Captain: the rice produced was got from the ship for food, not for planting, There were no more yams, and they were

Vesta, examined by Mr Pollard, stated that he knew nothing of the Chinamen until they were on board. He told them that he was to superintend them. As to the cotton, he told them also that the cotton was to be sold only to Captain Tetens. The crew were 13 all told, being two more than they usually carried. The coolies had rice, fish, oil, toa, and yam, if they liked: the yam they were very fond of, as it is a very good "wegetable." They were never asked to do work on deek. On the island the coolies were fed as good as he was, and better-pig or goat once a-day, bananas, and taras and a bullock once. Their behavior was very bad; more like fools, as the anything in a native's house, but they would go and flourish knives to the women. few bahibous. About 16,000 or 17,000 cotton trees were planted, about 6,000 of which were as thick as his wrist and 6 or 8 feet high. They had often disturbances with the natives, and once they had a fight between themselves, when one man was wounded in three places. Two or three times they were absent from work; and they were too lazy to grow rice, although he gave them seed. They said they would not stop on the Island, and if the Captain would not take them away, they would do no more work, and would instead kick up rows with the natives. When he went to persuade Captain Tetens to take them away, the Captain was lying with his leg shot through and refused to take them; but he afterwards consented to take them. -By Mr Whyte: An agreement was entered into before the Captain would take the coolies back, declaring that they had no claim upon the Captain, and that they would have to work their passage home. Did not beat theni, unless in self-defence; never saw an iron bar. Gibbons, a black man, did not illuse the coolies; he had been on the Island for 13 years, and is a British subject. The voyage out was of sixteen days, and that back was of 43 days; 43 days rather long passage, but had provisions all the time. Captain Tetens has privilege to work cotton on those Islands from the King; there are about 500 men on the islands, and plenty pigs. On the return voyage, the coolies did not frequently pump, sometimes they did. -By Mr Pollard : Coolies worked only at the pumps. Pigs run wild in the bush, and are very plentiful in all the neighbour-ng islands as well. J. Hanssen, chief mate, sworp, said that he recollected the nineteen Chinamen going to the Pellews. The evidence given by this witness, however, was very much the same in substance as that given by the last witness. - By Mr Whyte: The anchor was not up when the second contract was signed; the Chinese worked the pumps.

His Honor said that, although the rules of pleading were not strictly attended to here, still the plaintiff's case appeared to rest upon the agreement; to which Mr Whyte replied that they went upon the non-existence of the agreement produced by defendant and the existence of a parallel agreement, stipulating $10 a-month, one year's service, and food and olothing. By agreement, they meant a verbal agreement, as understood by the Chinese .- His Honor remarked that it was a dangerous dootrine to hold that a person should not be bound by an agreement which they had signed.

Mr. Whyte said that it was hard for the poor unfortunate men. -Mr. Pollard objected to anything of misfortune being spoken of, after the evidence just giveh .-Mr. Whyte said that it was a gross evasion of the Passenger Act; by taking only nineteen men, they did not come under the provision of the Act passed to check abuse in the shipment of emigrants.—His Honor said that it was somewhat remarkable that nineteen and not twenty should be the number fixed upon. .

As the Captain was not able to attend.
